GOSPEL MEDITATION

March 6, 2022

1st Sunday of Lent

One of the greatest temptations human beings face is leaving the truth of who they are, where they came from and who created them in pursuit of more personal satisfactions. When we consider all that desires our attention in a given day, there are many lures that attract us to illusions about ourselves. We can easily find ourselves distracted or tired, preoccupied with preserving our status in life, social relationships, current trends, and corporate demands, and intrigued by pursuing what we perceive to be the “path of least resistance.” The daily concerns of life can quickly take our eyes off of our truth, making the empty promises of worldly accomplishments and ideologies seem so attractive. What is at risk in giving into this temptation?

We cease giving thanks to and worshipping our Creator as we pursue our own self-sufficiency, power, and prestige. We replace the true God with a “pet” one. While many do not totally dismiss the idea of God and pretend to remain at least remotely connected, they do not invest themselves heart, mind, and soul in the relationship either. That is why we are so easily swayed. If something attractive comes along, we lunge for it. After all, having a position above and over everyone else is a good thing, isn't it? In more honest moments, many have to admit that they believe this to be true. The Evil One is very convincing. But he can only gain control if we allow him to.

About temptation, St. Basil remarks, “As the pilot of a vessel is tried in the storm, as the wrestler is tried in the ring, the soldier in the battle and the hero in adversity, so is the Christian tried in temptation.” And here is found the reason for Lent. It is a wonderful opportunity to get a handle on the attractive lures of illusion that easily captivate us and bring us off track. It is also a time for some honest reflection rooted in prayer, fasting, and selfless giving that can bring us to temptation's remedy: love. Love of his Father gave Jesus resistance. It can do the same for us.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

Filling the Basket This Lent

Lent calls us into deeper everyday stewardship because it beautifully creates opportunities to be mindful of the call of Christ in even the most mundane moments of our day.

Many of us will participate in the time-honored tradition of doing penance, or “giving something up” for Lent. When we do this, we are mimicking the Israelites who filled their baskets with the first fruits of their harvest, “and having set them before the Lord, your God, (bowing) down in his presence” (Deuteronomy 26:10).

What are we going to bring before the Lord this Lent? What are our first fruits?

If you’re struggling with ideas for how to “fill your basket,” it can help to come at the problem from the opposite side. Take a look at the six characteristics of Everyday Stewardship and think about the moments in your day when you fail to fulfill the virtues to which they call you.

What is keeping you from being mindful of the call of Christ throughout your day? I promise you, if you listen, you’ll hear it more than once.

What is keeping you from being prayerful? When you have set your first fruits before the Lord, what keeps you from bowing down in His presence to finish the offering?

What keeps you from being grateful — especially of the small things that so often go unnoticed?

What keeps you from being gracious, from leaving people smiling as they walk away?

What keeps you from being committed and accountable? Where do your excuses come from and what makes you indulge them?

LIVE THE LITURGY - INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Human beings did not come to believe in God just because of someone’s private testimony about him. Rather, belief in God became real when human beings understood that all of human history is being guided and lead, kept and sustained by a God who is incredibly in love with all that he has made. It is this realization that leads us to thanksgiving and gratitude for the one who gives us “this land flowing with milk and honey.” It also leads us to adoration and worship as we continue to see the creative power of God’s presence in all of the events of our lives. The Church stands as a living witness to all of these things and calls us this Lent to reflect and remember. There is a great temptation for human beings to leave the truth of who they are, where they came from and who created them. Falling into this temptation we cease giving thanks to and worshipping our Creator as we pursue our own self-sufficiency, power, and prestige. While having more may seem better, the only thing we really need more of is love. This fortifies us and keeps us from falling.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? - CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

Should a Catholic Pursue an Annulment?

Question: After a civil divorce, is a Catholic obligated to pursue an annulment?

Answer: Many Catholics are not exactly sure what an annulment does. An annulment does not deny that a marriage took place, nor does it deny that there once was love. It does not mean that people say anything untrue, such as they never loved each other or that everything in their marriage was wrong. An annulment does not negate children, nor make them illegitimate. An annulment addresses the spiritual aspect of marriage. In effect, an annulment says that at the time of the wedding, there was either something present or something absent that prevented the sacrament from taking place. It is a spiritual determination that, if granted in the affirmative, allows a person to marry in the Church.

Annulments have no legal standing and are unable to be used in a civil court. Therefore, a Catholic has no moral obligation to pursue an annulment. However, when the tragedy of divorce occurs, and there is no hope for reconciliation, annulments may help bring some spiritual closure to a person's life. Some people have found the process to be healing and others have found it to be difficult. Speak to your priest or a member of the Diocesan Tribunal staff to decide what is best for you lpi

NOTE: The process for an annulment in our parish is guided through Lisa, our Pastoral Minister. There is no cost to the process.

ANIMA CHRISTI

Soul of Christ, sanctify me. Body of Christ, save me. Blood of Christ, inebriate me. Water from the side of Christ, wash me. Passion of Christ, strengthen me. O good Jesus, hear me. Within Thy wounds hide me. Separated from Thee let me never be. From the malignant enemy, defend me. At the hour of death, call me. And close to Thee bid me. That with Thy saints I may be Praising Thee, forever and ever. Amen.

St. Michael is the Patron Saint of Kiev, Ukraine.

Let us pray:

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle.

Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil.

May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou,

O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen. .

MY 1st Rummage Sale find!

Lampstand – Judy Greenhalgh

I was born and raised Catholic. I had a Catholic education. My family Attended Mass every Sunday and holiday (missing Mass was not an option). We said prayers before meals. My parents were strict. More importantly, they instilled in us morale values, principles, discipline, respect, work ethic, integrity and faith. I learned at a young age what was important in life.

When I was 5 years old, we lived next door to a house of Jesuits. They became family. In fact one of the Priests married my 4 older sisters and Renewed my parents' wedding vows on their 45th wedding anniversary.

Several years ago, I was involved in a car accident. It was winter during a "white out", only seconds before the head-on collision, I called out "Oh my God", with God's grace, I walked away without even a scratch on me, my car on the other hand was totaled!

When I was 5 years old, my family went to Six Flags Over Texas and some how I got lost, I don't remember that part, I do remember being reunited with my family by a man who had noticed all my siblings and me were dressed alike. I've had a few serious medical emergencies where the outcome could have ended so differently. Yet, here I am.

I was also taught to stand up for my beliefs. I did just that. In 7th grade, the religion teacher was a priest. If anyone in class answered a question incorrectly, didn't know the answer or questioned the priest regarding something he said, he would make the student kneel down on the floor and hit them with a ruler. One day, he actually tore the pierced earring through my best friend's ear.

I could not let this happen and do nothing. Then I said something to Vicki about walking out of the classroom, the priest told me to kneel down on the floor. I refused. He hit me across my head with a ruler. I stood up, told Vicki to come with me and by the grace of God she reluctantly left with me. We went to the religious office, reported the incidents and with further investigation, the Priest was removed from the Church.

With age comes wisdom, with self-reflection comes insight, with deep loss (heartbreak, loss of loved ones) comes faith and eventual healing. Through healing, I realized the power of forgiveness. When we hold onto most hurts, grudges, betrayal, being taken advantage of... all that drama becomes your baggage and you become stuck. Forgiveness is empowering, it sets you FREE. If God can forgive our transgressions, who are we not to forgive others? I always "felt God's presence" in my life, however, I didn't always acknowledge it at the time. My faith is steadfast with God's grace, wisdom, forgiveness, gratitude.

I am grateful to all my lifetime mentors (my parents, priests, nuns, teachers and patients), for being instrumental in my becoming the person I am today; especially to Abbot Gary and Fr. Krizner who continue to inspire me to be of service to others!

Judy Greenhalgh

SAINT OF THE WEEK

St. Catherine of Bologna | March 9

St. Catherine of Bologna (September 8, 1413 – March 9, 1463) came from an upper-class family in Ferrara, a city in Italy, and received an education at the court, where she learned reading, writing, singing and drawing. But despite her advantages, her heart yearned for God.

She joined a group of religious women in Ferrara at the age of 18. Four years later, that same group joined the Poor Clares, an order founded by St. Francis and St. Clare of Assisi. In 1456, she and 15 other sisters were sent to establish a Poor Clare monastery in Florence.

As abbess, St. Catherine of Bologna worked to establish the new community and maintain a semblance of peace throughout. She was a model of piety and reported experiencing miracles and several visions of Christ, and the Virgin Mary.

In 1463, St. Catherine of Bologna became seriously ill, and she passed away. She was buried without a coffin and her body was exhumed 18 days later because of many cures attributed to her at her graveside and the sweet scent coming from her grave. Her body was discovered incorrupt (meaning it was not decaying) and remains so today.

Dear Parish Family,

The bulletin is filled with info and I have this small space to share with you our continued prayers for the people of the Ukraine and the innocent people of Russia who have been drawn into a battle that makes no sense to them. The bulletin is written on Tuesday— so between now and the weekend God only knows what will have taken place. Please continue to keep the Ukrainians in your prayers. I have kept the icon of Our Lady of Perpetual Help displayed in the back of the Church. A blue and yellow candle remains lit for the intentions of the innocent people (especially the children) of Ukraine. God be merciful and allow Your Hand to be extended in peace, consolation, encouragement, and hope. Our Lady, Mother of Mercy, intercede for our Nation and the Nations of our world.

The evil that exists in this world is born of the efforts who would have us become a God-less society. Your faith is a light in this darkness.
